Buffalo County is located in the heart of the Driftless Region giving it outstanding crop land, natural resources, and beauty. Agriculture is the number one source of county income with dairy, poultry, cash grain, and beef being the largest agricultural industries. Diversity is returning to Buffalo County agriculture with increasing acres of vegetables, grapes, small fruits, dairy goats, organic grains and managed forests. Agri-tourism is growing, and Buffalo County is becoming a destination location for people from Rochester, St. Paul, and Minneapolis to experience agriculture in a very rural setting.
