Data Source: Federal Communications Commission (FCC) Broadband Data Collection as of December 31, 2023. Service reflects internet service provider advertised service. Disclaimer: FCC data is known to undercount locations that may need broadband service, particularly in Tribal areas.

What is a broadband serviceable location (BSL)? A business or residential location at which mass-market fixed broadband internet access service is, or can be, installed. This includes single family homes, multifamily buildings, and business locations. This does not include empty parcels of land, secondary structures on a residential parcel (such as a standalone garage or barn), or abandoned structures that are not inhabitable.
